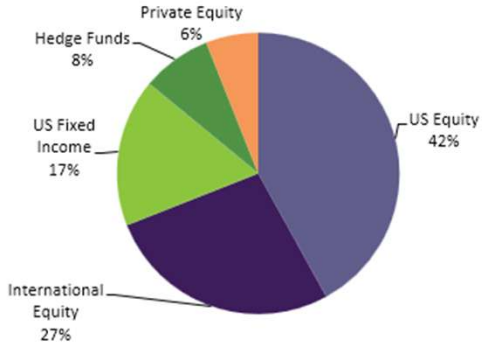
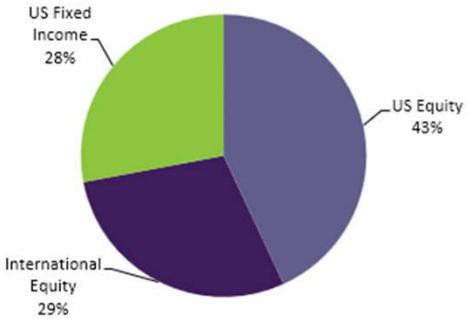
Long-Term Growth Portfolio

This portfolio seeks maximum growth and controlled risk through a diversified portfolio of global stocks, bonds and alternative investment strategies. It is appropriate for assets that will remain invested for at least five years to benefit from long-term opportunities that can only be realized from a patient investment strategy.



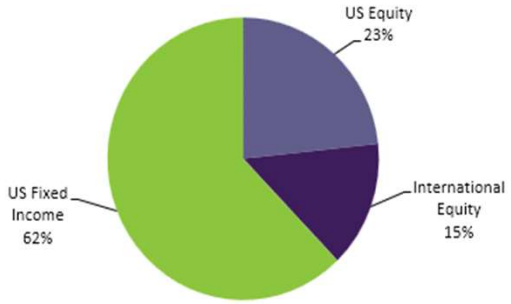
Indexed Growth Portfolio

This portfolio seeks maximum growth primarily through index funds resulting in lower active management risk. It is appropriate for assets that will remain invested for at least five years to benefit from long-term opportunities that can only be realized from a patient investment strategy.



Moderate Growth Portfolio

This portfolio is designed for growth at a more moderate level of risk. It is appropriate for assets that will remain invested for at least three years.



As a fund advisor, you may allocate to one or more investment portfolios, and you may change the investment allocation once per year or upon a significant change in charitable goals or time horizon for depleting the fund. The Community Foundation will maintain your fund's investment allocation through bi-monthly rebalancing. Investments are exposed to market risks and may experience significant volatility and principal loss.

The value of your investments can go down as well as up, and you may not get back the amount you have invested. Investments denominated in a foreign currency will fluctuate with the value of the currency. Certain investments, such as securities issued by small capitalization, foreign and emerging market issuers, real property, and illiquid, leveraged or high-yield funds, carry additional risks that should be considered before choosing an investment manager or making an investment decision.

This presentation is for sophisticated investors only and accredited or qualified investors only. Funds of private capital funds are speculative and involve a high degree of risk. Private capital fund managers have total authority over the private capital funds. The use of a single advisor applying similar strategies could mean lack of diversification and, consequentially, higher risk.

Funds of private capital funds are not liquid and require investors to commit to funding capital calls over a period of several years; any default on a capital call may result in substantial penalties and/or legal action.

An investor could lose all or a substantial amount of his or her investment.

There may be restrictions on transferring interests in private capital funds. Funds of private capital funds' fees and expenses may offset private capital funds' profits.

Funds of private capital funds are not required to provide periodic pricing or valuation information to investors. Funds of private capital funds may involve complex tax structures and delays in distributing important tax information.

Funds of private capital funds are not subject to the same regulatory requirements as mutual funds.

Fund offering may only be made through a Private Placement Memorandum (PPM).

Returns for periods greater than one year are annualized. Returns are calculated net of investment management fees, unless noted as gross of fees.
